ORCHIDS, CULTURAL DIRECTIONS

The orchids are without question the handsomest, the strongest and most lasting flowers in all the floral kingdom, and the most easily grown plants of any, if a few common-sense points are observed.

Ventilation—Orchids delight in fresh air at all times when weather permits. During the warmest part of the summer months it is beneficial to leave the ventilators slightly open at night.

Shading—The glass should be lightly shaded from about February 15th to September 1st, or the sun will burn the plants. During the rest of the year clear glass is desirable.

Watering—When watering see that plenty is given and then allow the plants to dry out before giving more, this will keep the compost in the pots in good condition for a long time. The atmosphere in the house should be moderately moist.

Temperature—A night temperature of 58 to 60 and correspondingly higher in the daytime will suit the greater number of orchids.

Potting—Firm potting is absolutely necessary. Orchids will not grow well and thrive if loose in the pots or baskets. In repotting, care should be taken not to disturb the roots, rather break the pots, while the baskets may be taken apart carefully and the plants placed in new baskets working the material around the plants firmly, this is generally done by placing the material used between the rim of the pot or basket, and the ball of the plant pressing the material towards the plant. When no more material can be conveniently used it will be found the plants are very firm in the receptacle. Avoid overpotting and do not disturb the plants unless necessary.

Materials for Potting—The best material for potting orchids is osmunda fibre, commonly called peat, a few lumps of charcoal and pieces of broken pots may be added to advantage, also a little live sphagnum moss.

Time for Potting—In the greater majority of cases the time for potting is immediately after the plants finish flowering. The plants are then more dormant than at any other time notably such as Cattleyas, Laelias, Oncidiums, and Odontoglossums and many more. With these general directions anyone will be able to grow orchids and reap a rich harvest of these exquisite flowers.

For further and more detailed information we respectfully advise the procuring of some book on Orchids. A list of such books will be found on page 28 of this price list.

CALANTHES

The Calanthes are deciduous orchids and should be potted in fibrous loam, peat, leafsoil and sand with plenty of water during the growing season. The handsome sprays carry numerous flowers of rose pink to pure white, with crimson lips, according to kinds, and are valuable for cutting purposes. Flowers during winter months.

CYMBIDIUM

One of the finest and most useful genus of orchids, both for cutting and exhibitions. The flowers are usually large and attractive, many flowers on sprays, in various colors and shades. Like the Cypripedium the flowers are of unusual lasting qualities. The plants are of easiest culture, requiring plenty of pot room, and should be potted in fibrous loam, rough peat, and sand, with good drainage, and an abundance of water during the growing season.

CYPRIPEDIUM (LADY SLIPPER ORCHID)

The following list of Cypripediums is without doubt the largest and most varied collection of these plants carried by any commercial house in America. Nothing in the entire Orchid family offers such a great number of species, varieties and hybrids as do the Cypripediums. They are a constant source of interest to the cultivator.

The flowers when cut will outlast anything else we know, and besides they are the easiest orchids of all to grow with few exceptions.

In ordering please use number in left margin and give number of list.

CYPRIPEDIUM—Continued Selenipedium Section

These are so distinct in regard to habit of the plants, colors and shapes of the flowers, that they really form a separate group and we have listed them below, apart from the others. Many of them have long, ribbon-like petals, and all produce a number of flowers on tall scapes, one after another. It is thus possible to have these plants in flower for a long time, for as soon as one flower drops, another takes its place.

The colors of many are white, or nearly so, others rose pink to purple, while some are green, suffused with yellow and purple. They are of easiest culture and form handsome and stately subjects in the greenhouse or conservatory when in flower.
